

Hires/Promotions/ Honors

Andrew Emborsky, an associate at Cohen & Lombardo P.C., was elected to the Family Justice Center of Erie County board of directors for a three-year term. Emborsky practices in family law, custody, child support and matrimonial proceedings at Cohen & Lombardo, and he is a court-appointed Attorney for Children, working with children involved in domestic violence, neglect and abuse cases.

• • •

Eco Serve Pest Services of West

Seneca's president, Audrey Hall, has been selected for the National Pest Management Association Executive Leadership Program. The association's inaugural program will provide skills development and training for association leadership for 10 candidates selected from across the United States.

Company Connections

United Insurance Agency, an independent insurance agency in Amherst, has added the business and staff from Holler Grapes Agency of Tonawanda, a family-owned and operated insurance agency for more than 80 years.

• • •

Walsh Duffield Companies was honored with the "Commitment to Service" award at the VolunteerWNY: Why Not You awards ceremony based on their support of Meals on Wheels for Western New York. Support of the not-for-profit spans the company, as almost a quarter of staff participate in the Adopt-A-Route program in which employees deliver meals to clients in Buffalo every week.